~ A Saturday Morning Post #50 ~

It is good to think about the work of God. He is always committed to His cause and is right on course to accomplish all that He has set out to do. In every person's life and in every part of this world, God is carrying out His plans. Here at the end of 2017 and the beginning of 2018, I want you to think about God's work in your life and in this world. "Great are the works of the Lord; they are studied by all who delight in them." Psalm 111:2-3

First, think about God's work in the world. Ephesians 1:9 speaks of the "mystery of His will... to be put into effect when the times will have reached their fulfillment, to bring all things in heaven and on earth together under one head, even Christ." This is a prophetic verse, for everything and everyone is moving towards that time when Christ will return and be ruler of this world. But to see the big picture, you need to go back to Genesis 1-2, and remember that this world used to be a perfect place, with perfect people. Then Adam and Eve sinned, resulting in this evil age, Satan ruling over the earth, and sin and death spreading to all men. But in His mercy, God promised a Savior who would deliver people from their sin (Isaiah 53), and create a new heavens and earth. Isaiah 65:17

God made perfect plans to fulfill these eternal purposes, and over the millennia He has been faithfully fulfilling them. He worked with and through the Jews for about 2000 years, and then "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners" (1 Timothy 1:15). Christ lived a perfect life, died to pay for man's sins, was raised again and ascended into heaven. He continued His work on earth through the church, saving millions and millions of people from sin, death and hell. Now that the Jews are back in their land, it won't be long before Christ returns, the church is raptured and believers are glorified. Matthew 24:27-31

Second, think about God's work in your life. It is important for you to know that in eternity past, God chose to save you, and to glorify you, to be like His Son, Jesus Christ. Then came that wonderful day when God actually saved you and forgave you of all your sins. Since then He's been working in your life, making you holy and using you to fulfill His purposes (Ephesians 2:1-10). Romans 8:28-29 says it well, "God causes all things to work together for good to those who love God," with His primary purpose being that all believers be "conformed to the image of His Son."

Think about this past year. In every situation, job, relationship and trial, God was working in you and through you, for your good and the good of the church, and ultimately, for His glory. God was always kind to you, always teaching you, always patient with you, and always carrying out His will in your life. There's no doubt He'll continue with you in this way in 2018, 2019, etc. Then will come the day, whether you've already gone to heaven or whether you're still on earth, when Christ will come back, and you will be glorified, and your salvation will be 100% complete. It's essential to have this perspective and to be encouraged by God's perfect work in your life. 1 Thessalonians 5:24

The fulfillment of God's plans for the Jews, His promises to the church, and His plans for you, are all converging together in these last days of this church age. God is directing every detail in this world, moving all things full speed ahead, bringing us closer and closer to that time when He will send His Son back to earth. And this age will end, believers will be glorified, this wicked world will be judged, a remnant of Jews will be saved, and Christ will begin His rule over this world. Revelation 6-11

It's necessary for you to think about your life, and your connection to, and purpose in the world. Otherwise you'll be rudderless and directionless, like a ship adrift out in the open sea. You must see that your life is intricately and intimately intertwined with God's work in the world. You are like a puzzle piece, and God is fitting you and all the other pieces together. God has His plans for the world, and His plans for you in this world, and you are a vital part of all that He is doing. Everything happening in your life and in every other life in this world is part of God's plan to bring His Son back to this earth. God will not be stopped, thwarted or delayed, and will not give up until His Son returns and is reigning over this world. Be excited that you can serve God in the way He has planned for you, in the church He has placed you, and with the people He puts in your life. “The whole building, being fitted together, is growing into a holy temple in the Lord, in whom you also are being built together into a dwelling of God in the Spirit.” Ephesians 2:21-22

P.S. As we think about the New Year, here’s an article that specifically instructs us about the time that God gives to each of us: The Time of My Life.
